PREPARED BY: KEITH MAHABIR

DATE: 20TH APRIL, 2023.

Based on a market study conducted by a Guyanese consulting firm Sabre Metals Roofing Inc. (SMRI) will invest GYD 80 mil in machinery, equipment and vehicles to set up a metal roofing manufacturing operation on a 6,000 sq ft leased warehouse in Coldingen , East Coast Demerara. The equipment and vehicles include roll forming machines, a slasher, a bender, 5mT truck and a pickup. To power this operation given the unreliability of Guyana's power grid, SMRI must invest in a 170 KVA generator and Diesel tank to provide continuous power to its operations. In this regard, SMRI seeks GEA approval to install the Diesel tank

SMRI is currently recruiting Guyanese employees which includes, three machine operators, a truck driver and a salesperson to start operations in May 2023. Equipment has been procured and some will arrive by May 2023 at which time SMRI will start selling roofing products. Their full range of products will be offered from August 2023. As they grow the business, additional equipment and employees will be added.

Our operations will have a minimal impact on the environment. We will use one of the solid waste companies for collection and safe disposal of our metallic and domestic waste. Our biggest threat to the environment is posed by the storage of dieseline fuel at our factory location. In this regard we have already contacted the Fire Services and the GEA and have already begun putting in infrastructure to meet their requirements for safe storage of said fuel. All systems will be in place before we start operations.
